

- Hardcover: 64 pages
- Publisher: Boyds Mills Press
- Language: English
- ISBN-10: 1590782607
- Reading level: Ages 9-12

Connecting Dots

Children's Literature - Sheree Van Vreede

This inspiring collection of poems takes us through many significant and even ordinary events, or "dots" as the author calls them, which all connect to form a representation of David L. Harrison's life. The poems are honest, clever, and witty. Perhaps the best feature of the book, however, is how it encourages us to consider the "dots" in our lives, those moments, some momentous and many trivial, that have shaped who we are and how poetry can help us paint our self-portraits.

An Inspiring Book

I have been a fan of David Harrison's work for some time now, and his latest book Connecting Dots is so touching. David has once again evoked an array of emotions in the reader as one goes through the book of poems ~ the pages of his life ~. It is a fantastic model to use with writing instruction on memoirs, and we are sharing the book with a group of our teachers in a writing a class now. - Jackie, Instructional Specialist

A reviewer, December 9, 2004, ★★★★★